INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT HATTIESBURG.

Mr. Jas. W. Hopkins, who is in Hattiesburg with the Prudential Insurance Company, writes the editor of The Commercial a personal letter from which we take the liberty of publishing the following interesting facts regarding that enterprising city:

"Hattiesburg is a good business point: there is plenty of money here, and as business is not dependent on the crop prospect there is no summer dullness as in the agricultural section of the state.

"The First National Bank, of Hattiesburg, is erecting a fine three-story bank and office building, and all the office room is already engaged. The Newman mill here employs 1,200 men, and there are several kindred concerns that employ a great many men. They all pay off every Saturday and as none of them has a commissary, you can very well see the benefit this is to the retail merchants.

"The Gulf & Ship Island Railroad by its liberal treatment of the people has done much to the upbuilding of the city.

"There is a new system of sewerage installed, an electric light plant, and the best waterworks I ever saw outside of a large city. The town is first-class and gets insurance rates on that basis.

"Property is high; rents are out of sight, and it is impossible to find a vacant dwelling in town.

"The water supply is obtained from artesian wells; the water is excellent. The health of the town is good, and the people all seem to be happy and prosperous."
